Product Fact Sheet

Oman Insurance Company has partnered with Coface to provide you with leading Trade Credit Insurance in the region.

Credit Insurance is a risk transfer mechanism that protects your company against payment defaults and subsequently shields your cash flow. It protects your 'Account Receivables,' which is your largest asset and future revenue. We cover both domestic and export trade transactions.

Our unique Credit Insurance offering combines the three core elements of credit management: Information, Protection and Collection. We support you through your trade cycle by providing information on your potential customers, protecting your outstanding receivables during the sales transactions and eventually collecting your debt if the invoices remain unpaid.

Your benefits

Increase your revenue

Sell more by increasing the credit line of your existing customers, and gain new customers by offering them credit payment terms from Day 1.

Protect your receivables against the risk of payment default

Our primary mission is to take over the trade credit risk inherent to your open account sales.

Access new financing opportunities

Insure your receivables to benefit from improved borrowing terms and increased credit facilities from our partnering banks.

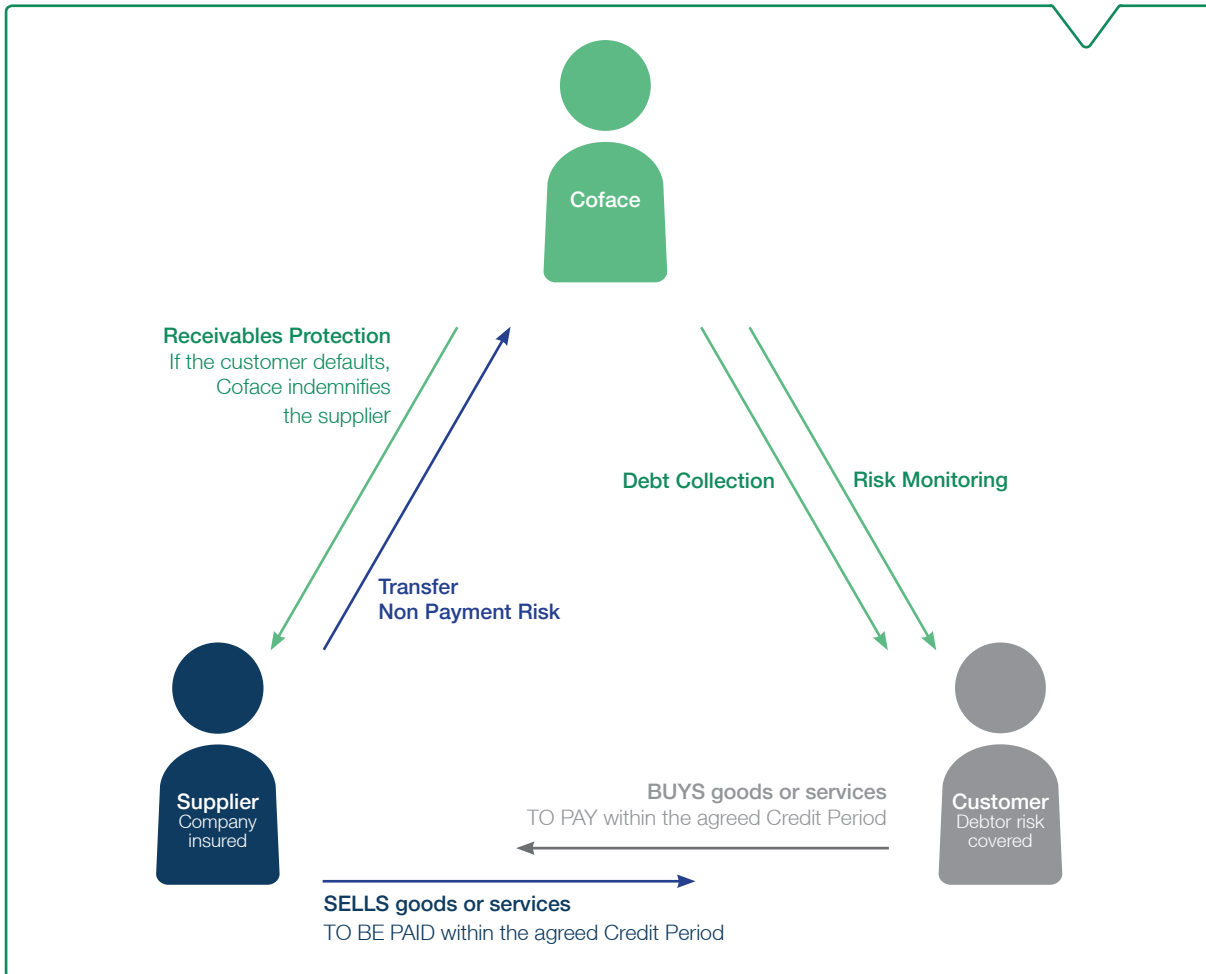

Know your customers

Explore our database of 65 million monitored companies and track your buyer's payment behavior.

Do these questions concern you?

- Is it safe to offer credit payment terms to my customers?
- Will my outstanding invoices get paid? How long will it take?
- How can I improve my cash flow and increase my bank facility?
- How can I safely attract new customers and explore new markets?
